

We Have Moved

You will find us on Hotel Street just opposite Union.

We are down stairs because we want more visitors. As was, many customers would have climbed five flights of stairs to see our magnificent stock of books. As is, these will not be discomforted and the new store will be more convenient for the don't-care-to-climb-stairs customers.

We cordially invite visitors whether they wish to buy or not. We want them to see what we have, so they can tell their friends. Standard books, rare editions, original manuscripts.

GOOD PROSPECT FOR JUNKETERS

Features of the Los Angeles Excursion Outlined by Edgar Johnson.

The following is an extract from a letter received at the chamber of commerce from the secretary of the Southern California Editorial association, who had charge of the excursion of that body, which recently visited Honolulu:

"I am glad to hear that you are arranging an excursion from San Pedro to Honolulu, and am sure the proposed excursion will be one of the most popular outings ever given by your chamber. I do not know of a more interesting trip that could be planned in the United States.

"Our party, numbering forty-seven people, made the trip from San Francisco and during the entire six days the ocean was smooth and nearly every member of the party made the trip to Hawaii and return, also from Honolulu to Hilo and the volcano and return without even being sick.

"You ask about clothing. Will state that the members of your chamber who go over there should take along the same clothing that they would use on an outing in Southern California. You will find the people of Honolulu and of all Hawaii hospitable and great entertainers. They will take great pleasure in showing you throughout the city and the surrounding country, and I know that they will entertain you royally during your entire stay on the islands.

"I understand that the Hawaii Promotion Committee is getting up a great program for your people. This committee had charge of our editorial party during the visit over there and could not have done anything more to have made our visit more successful than it was.

"You will find first-class hotel accommodations if you wish them, over there, and street car service right up to date in every particular. I am informed that a luau (a native feast) may be given in honor of your party while in Honolulu. I know you will enjoy this. Every member of your party should visit the volcano, the largest and most active in the world.

"The islands are covered with a tropical growth of every description; fields of rice, large plantations of bananas, coffee, fruits, sugar, pineapples and sisal are produced in abundance.

"Your party will probably be shown all places of importance and the only trouble your excursion manager will probably experience will be to round up your people for the return trip. This was the case with the writer, many members of the excursion remaining over for weeks after the date of our regular return trip.

"You will find that the newspapers, and, in fact, all business houses of Honolulu will take a great interest in your party. The writer has traveled all over every state and territory in the United States, also visited Canada, Cuba and Mexico, and will state that the city of Honolulu is the best place to buy souvenirs he has ever visited; the prices are low and the stores take no advantage of tourists.

"No member of your party should be afraid of seasickness, as it is a pleasant trip of 2000 miles all the year round to Honolulu. I hope most of the members of the chamber will take their wives, daughters or sons as it is a most enjoyable trip for all. I suppose my friends, McCandless and Wood, president and secretary, respectively, of the Hawaii Promotion Committee, will meet you upon your arrival in Honolulu and place a lei (wreath of flowers) about the neck of each member.

HE WENT.

Miss Gaysett (after every other means has failed).—I've named my new saddle horse after you, Mr. Ankerd.
Mr. Ankerd.—He—ar—deuced flattered—really—
Miss Gaysett.—Yes; it's so dreadfully hard to make him go.

of your party, as is the custom of Hawaii.

(Signed) "EDGAR JOHNSON."

The chamber of commerce was busy all day Saturday answering inquiries over the phone with reference to the excursion, and if it keeps up at this rate they will have to employ extra help to answer the telephone and give information pertaining to the excursion. More prospective applications have been received if they become binding than can be accommodated. Members of the chamber who are thinking of going should send in their names immediately.—Los Angeles Herald.

THE NEW HUSTED DIRECTORY IS OUT

"Husted's Directory of Honolulu and the Territory of Hawaii," from the press of the Hawaiian Gazette Co., Ltd., is at hand. In past years about as much dependence could be placed in the island directory as in the old Berea avenue horse-car line. This issue is the exception that proves the rule, for a more complete record of names has never been produced in the Territory.

In arranging matter for this publication no reference was made to previous issues; every part of the islands, every hamlet and plantation settlement was visited and the names secured from individuals or persons in position to know. No abbreviations are used in names of individuals except in that of William, which is occasionally reduced to Wm.

The volume is replete with miscellaneous information; it has a revised street guide arranged to date. The general index is a guide to what is in the book and is worth perusal. In the back is a classified directory of advertisements and in the commencement of the section which segregates the inhabitants of the different islands is an introduction bearing upon the characteristics of the island referred to. The introduction to the book contains brief historical mention of the islands and calls attention to the most striking features. The book commends itself to residents as well as business men.

Honolulu proper has the names of 17,602 people, and by the usual rule of reasoning the population of the city is 44,005.

The managers of the directory company have furnished the Promotion Committee with directories of many of the principal cities on the mainland, and this directory of the islands will be sent to many of the libraries of the United States and will be placed on all of the large steamships leaving Pacific Coast ports.

MISS PRESCOTT WAS MARRIED IN BOSTON

Father Beissel's letter to the Star, in which he referred to Miss Prescott, editor of the Honolulu Times, as "an old maid," has drawn from her the following card:

Editor Advertiser: Apropos of tonight's Star the editor of The Honolulu Times would kindly beg to state, that she had been married in Trinity church, of Boston, by the late Rev. Dr. Mercer of New York.

A GOOD CIGAR.

Have you ever seen a pebble dropped into water? How it starts a slight commotion which rapidly expands in ever-widening circles? This fully illustrates the remarkable career of the famous Old Government Plantation cigar. Sold strictly on its merits and quality, it is creating a wide demand among high-class smokers. That is a compliment to the cigar and a satisfaction to the agents, Lewis & Co.

Muggins—I hear you are having your daughter's voice cultivated." Buggins—Yes, I'm afraid it can't be cured, so I am doing the next best thing.—Philadelphia Record.

"When the people of your town out West discovered that the mayor had been misappropriating the public money, did they suspend him from office?" "No; from a tree."—Baltimore American.
